What's been happening?

Project Update

- Nick Ruest and Helge Holzmann have made strides towards our integrated approach to developing an analyzable archive.
- We have integrated feedback from our winter concept design interviews into UI development.
- We are planning for the launch of the Cohort program and our opening event in July. We are excited to share team progress throughout the year, including visualizations, graphs, and lots of testing.

Collaborating with users, partners, and colleagues as we prepare final announcements of roll-out will be coming in the summer.

Preparing for a second round of UX testing and incorporating feedback.

News

- Our team is also gearing up for presentations in June.
- We are pleased to introduce the 2021-2022 Archives Unleashed Cohorts!

Upcoming Events

- The IIPC’s Web archiving Conference (WAC) will be held virtually. We will be delivering two presentations with a Q & A session following each. Presentation videos will be available through IIPC’s YouTube channel.

Reading List

- Featured Articles:
  - Building community at a distance: A datathon during COVID-19
  - Our open-access article, "Global Teams and Projects: How to make research contributions in web archiving even when you can’t meet in person" is available.
  - "Researching and archiving community web content: Integrating Archives Unleashed with the Internet Archive," Session Web Archives’ Challenges, June 18
  - "Towards an Analyzable Archive: Transforming the Internet Archive for Cutting-edge Analysis," by Jefferson Bailey (Internet Archive), Ian Milligan (University of Waterloo), Nick Ruest (York University) and Helge Holzmann (Internet Archive)
  - "Jimmy Lin (University of Waterloo), Sam Fritz (University of Waterloo), Nick Ruest (York University) and Helge Holzmann (Internet Archive)
  - "Integrating Archives Unleashed with the Internet Archive: Sustainable research platforms on accessible web archives: Rethinking and designing usable infrastructure for sustainable research platforms" by Samantha Fritz

Get Involved

- Join our Slack group to stay updated on team news and announcements!
- Follow us on Twitter and Instagram to stay up to date on our progress.
- Check out the Archives Unleashed Retrospective. This piece was also cross-posted on the IIPC blog, and we want to extend our sincerest thanks for their support of our project and team.
- Submit to our datathon, and share our news with colleagues and friends.
- We are pleased to introduce the 2021-2022 Archives Unleashed Cohorts!
- To change how you receive these, you can also subscribe to our newsletter! To change how you receive these, you can do so by "archives unleashed" and "subscribe to our newsletter!"